Suffragettes (continued)

Theme Overview

This half term, we are continuing to study of one of the most significant periods in the history of the UK in which the right for equal suffrage was long fought for and won. After exploring the establishment of the different suffrage societies, and the key figures behind them, we will now delve deeper into the actions (both peaceful and militant) that they took to reach their goal. Along the way, we will continue to look at the government's and society's attitude towards these suffrage campaigners, and how these changed over the course of the campaign.
